Happy Holidays, Alumni!

BY OLIVIA PRESTON, HISTORIAN

'Twas the last night of finals and all through the dorms, not a creature was stirring, not even the worms. The band uniforms were all hung with care, in hopes that a bowl game win would soon be there. The Sisters were all nestled in bed while visions of 4.0s danced in their heads.

MUSICIANSHIP

Our Symphony and Wind Ensemble members had their last concert of the semester. We are so proud of our members and their musical talents.

SERVICE

THE PILLARS OF TAU BETA SIGMA

Iota Lambda has been working hard on our national projects! So far, we have earned our Red Stripe for Hazing prevention and we have submitted for the Black Stripe and the Green Stripe for our recital and workshop with Dr. Scott respectively.

We have also been working on our Center Lyre piece which is a service swap with Epsilon Alpha and are making ornaments for a local retirement home.

SERVING THE BAND

Service doesn't have to be limited to our national projects. This semester we've helped serve our community by passing out new band uniforms, helping Playmakers, volunteering at a high school with KKPsi and doing a feminine hygiene product drive with SAI and leaving free products to use in the band buildings.

TAU BETA STUDY HALL

Our last service project of the semester was Tau Beta Study Hall. The first night, we booked rooms in Davis library for band students to have a place to study, get extra help prepping for finals, and have some fun snacks.

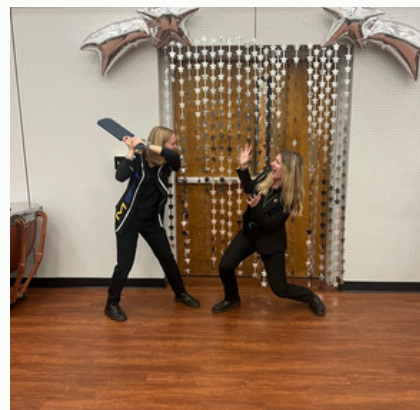

The second night of Tau Beta Study Hall we booked a room in Hill Hall and invited the band to join us in using the Pomodoro method to effectively study. We had music themed word searches, coloring sheets, and sudoku for our breaks to keep the brain working and a gourmet hot chocolate bar put together by Kellie.

ALPHA GAMMA LINE

We are very excited to officially welcome our newest members, the Alpha Gamma Line. They have worked so hard this semester. They made encouraging notes that they passed out to Symphony band members before their concert and put together a bake sale fundraiser. We are all so proud of our littles, especially me! It was very nice to see some alumni faces at their presentation. We are looking forward to what celeΣtIAI pers6veΓΛnce will bring!

WHAT'S NEXT FOR

Iota Lambda?

Just because it's winter break doesn't mean Iota Lambda won't be hard at work. We will be joining our football team at the Fenway Bowl in Boston, MA as we take on the UConn Huskies.

When we come back from break, we will be jumping into the swing of things with more recruitment, more service, and more sisterhood events!

See you next year!
